Trots Clubs Victoria (TCV) has advised that Toby McKinnon has resigned as the organisation's CEO.

McKinnon has represented TCV for the past six years, firstly as a Board member and then for the past 2.5 years as the CEO.

TCV President Tim Scala said McKinnon had been a great advocate for clubs and the industry and had developed many close friendships throughout the Victorian trots network.

"On behalf of all clubs, we wish Toby all the very best. I want to thank Toby for all that he has contributed to Clubs and the industry," Scala said.

McKinnon's last day as CEO will be Friday, December 20.

"I'd like to thank the TVC Executive both past and present and all the wonderful club personnel I have had the pleasure of dealing with throughout my time," McKinnon said.

While TCV goes through the process of appointing McKinnon's replacement, both McKinnon and Scala can be contacted.
