

WA Racing Update Part 2– 23 April 2021

RWWA has received approval from the WA government to maintain racing, trialling and trackwork under strict bio-security measures over the three day period of lock-down. Irrespective of racing venue, the following requirements will be adhered to:

- Essential Persons Only on-course (please carry RWWA licence card or Essential Persons ID Card at all times);
- Essential Persons include Trainers, Jockeys, Apprentices, Drivers, Stable Hands, Kennel Hands, Horse Transport staff specific to animals engaged at a race meeting, trial or trackwork;
- Essential Persons include RWWA Staff and Officials, Club Staff and Officials, Racing Vision broadcasters; Official raceday photographers;
- Masks to be worn on-course (except by riders and drivers whilst racing);
- Social Distancing;
- Mandatory contact register (Safe WA App or manual registration);
- Cleaning and disinfecting of all gear and equipment;
- Takeaway only options for food and beverage (dependent upon individual Club capacity)

The programme of racing across the three day lock-down period includes the following meetings:

DATE	Thoroughbreds	Harness	Greyhounds
Saturday 24 April	Ascot	Bunbury	Cannington
Sunday 25 April	Pinjarra	Central Wheatbelt	Cannington
	Kalgoorlie
Monday 26 April	Albany	Pinjarra	Cannington

Trials at Byford and Mandurah are permitted to go ahead with the aforementioned bio-security measures.

Due to the significance of oncourse relevance to Community Club meetings, the scheduled Yalgoo meeting for tomorrow has been postponed. RWWA will work with the Club to determine a future potential date.

Any Essential Person travelling into and out of the Perth and Peel regions, is required to apply for a G2G pass (www.g2gpass.com.au) as soon as possible, whilst Letters of Authority are provided in the interim.

Please note that any Essential Person who feels unwell should not attend a WA racetrack.
